

GUIDE TO GRI SECTOR REPORT

The Sector Report is presented as a customer designed report, selecting only the markets you want to review each day. The report utilizes the human analysis of Mr. Helms from the Daily Technical Overview, VMA Range levels / computer points from the DayTrader and PTS analysis from the Priority Report, combined together to provide an embracing, yet concise review of selected markets. The initial subscription provides a block of 12 markets (3 markets per page) with add on potential for an extra charge. The Sector Report is also published in pre-structured reports featuring a specific market area such as Energies, Grains, or Metals.

Key Details

- The Sector Report gives you the ability to select the markets in the report and change them for any given day with email notice to GRI before 4:00 pm for the next business day.
- The initial subscription is set at 12 markets (4 pages with 3 markets per page.) Additional pages can be added.
- Due to graphic content, the Sector Report is delivered by email only.
- We can put the name of your firm in the title of the report, enhancing the use of the report for promotions with customers.
- The Sector Report is offered in preset editions focusing on different market groups, like Grains, Metals, Energies.
- The Sector Report features expanded PTS signals from the Priority Report. Often the PTS will find 4-6 indicators on a given day and the Sector Report allows you to review a larger listing of signals found by the computer. (A full listing of PTS indicator signals is available using the Global Trader reports.)
- The Sector Report will be published each evening around 6:00 PM CST.
- Commentary from the Overview report covers only the main / lead contract. Back month contracts that can be included within the Sector Report will have computer commentary.
